

UNDECIDED AS TO FATE OF DEPOSED MADERO; HUERTA IS IN CONTROL

NO DECISION REACHED REGARD-ING DEPOSED PRESIDENT—WIFE PLEADS FOR HIS LIFE AND SAFETY.

"UNCLE SAM" OBJECTS

Evidence is Being Presented to Show That If He Had Won, Late President Would Have Made Bloody Reprisals.

Mexico City, Feb. 21.—Solicitude for the personal safety of ex-president Madero was given by provisional president Huerta to diplomats today as the reason why Madero cannot be removed from the capital for the present.

President Huerta recalled to his visitors the attack upon the train which bore ex-president Porfirio Diaz to Veracruz on his exile to Europe when Huerta himself was in command of the escort.

The president added that the investigation of the records of the Madero administration was being continued.

A police officer declared that Francisco Madero personally and verbally gave him a list of 45 deputies, a number of senators and all the newspaper men including the foreign correspondents with instructions to have them assassinated.

The police officer said that since the order was not in writing he did not feel obliged to carry it out. Such stories as this have created a bitter sentiment against Francisco Madero and have caused a number of men whose names were on the list to use their influence to bring about summary punishment for the deposed president.

News was received today at the national palace that Julian Pacheco, leader of the federal army at Cuautla, state of Morelos who was one of the first to declare for Felix Diaz has succeeded in winning over many of the Zapatista followers. Emiliano Zapata himself sent word to the capital that he was satisfied with the new regime, but he requested the removal of Governor Patricio Leyva of Morelos.

Venustiano Carranza governor of the state of Coahuila is reported to be raising an army to fight in co-operation with rebel forces being assembled by Madero's brother. It is assumed by the government supporters here that Carranza will have the support of Gov. Villard of the state of Nuevo Leon, father-in-law of Gustavo Madero recently executed.

According to consular Canada at Veracruz orders from Mexico City for the release from prison of Diaz adherents have not been obeyed and such important officers as the customs house administrators, inspector of police and commanding officers of the Mexican gunboats in Veracruz harbor not only have refused to recognize the provisional government but have discussed means of resistance.

The fate of Francisco Madero lost first place in the interest of the Mexican populace today on account of the more pressing concern as to the extent to which Mexico is yet in a state of revolution.

In spite of the termination of hostilities in the capital and establishment of a new administration, there are indications of widespread trouble in other sections of the country.

The disposition of the deposed president and vice-president had not been settled this morning and was still the cause of some anxiety, but this was regarded in many quarters as of little consequence to the nation compared with the problem presented by the existing rebel forces and the prospective rebels.

In view of General Huerta's personal assurance to Senora Madero that her husband would not be killed. It is believed that some humane measure will be devised for his elimination from public life. It is probable that this point will be discussed at the first meeting of the cabinet and also in congress which convenes today.

General Pascual Orozco according to dispatches from Chihuahua yesterday, scattered at Culihuahua with David de la Fuente, who has been chosen from the rebel list as a cabinet minister.

Orozco according to Senor de la Fuente to the federal capital in order personally to express his allegiance to the new government. General Aguilar and Col. De la Llave, who have been in rebellion on the south, are reported to be in accord with the new administration.

On the other hand there has been no intimation from Zapata nor from the elusive General de Laro of their conformity with the new order of things. Beyond this reports have been received from the north which appear very serious, namely that the governors of four states, Aguascarentes, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, and Sonora, have openly refused alliance.

Whether their disobedience will take the form of active rebellion is under speculation, but it is indicated that General Huerta will at once send additional troops to those districts in order to check any rebellious movement.

Senora Madero, who accompanied her husband in his campaign against Porfirio Diaz, and who has since been his closest advisor, broke down today under the strain of the past few days.
She has spent all her time for several days interceding with officials and diplomats to save her husband from death.

Madero remained all night under guard in his room at the national palace together with Suarez and Garza. Madero has not been permitted to see the members of his family.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Secretary
Knox with the approval of President

Taft had instructed Ambassador Wilson to convey Huerta to the diplomatic terms the intimation that the United States would seriously object to a summary execution or sentence of Madero. It was not felt here that the former president should be put out of the way for crimes which seem purely political, without a fair and open trial.
This view was made plain to Huerta and the fact was not concealed that the United States looked with disfavor upon the shooting of Gustavo Madero the president's brother.

PLAN NEW SYSTEM CUSTOMS SERVICE

Taft Will Endeavor to Clear Up New York Situation Before Wilson's Inauguration.

Washington, Feb. 21.—President Taft today took up the treasury department's plan for reorganizing the customs service. Collector Loeb of New York is understood to have urged the president not to leave the question for President Wilson, because delays would nullify the law under which customs-branded authority for the reform.

Senator Hoke Smith's bill to create a division of markets in the department of agriculture, Senator Gronna's bill for a commission to investigate co-operative farm land mortgage banks in Europe, and other measures to protect the water sheds from fire and create a bureau added as amendments to the agricultural appropriation bill by the senate committee bringing its total up to $18,566,530.

Senator Perkins' bill providing for the participation for the United States in the San Francisco exposition in 1915 was endorsed today by the senate committee. The bill carries an appropriation of $1,500,000.

FESTIVAL OF PURIM OBSERVED BY JEWS

Commemorate Downfall of Haman Who Plotted Extinction of Their Race When in Captivity.

New York, Feb. 21.—Jews the world over today engaged in their annual observance of the festival of Purim, a holiday based on the biblical book of Esther, and celebrated as a commemoration of the downfall of Haman, the prime minister of King Ahasuerus of Persia, who, according to the book, plotted the extinction of the Jewish race and was hung on his own gallows that he erected for Mordecai, a leader of the Jewish people at that time.

The plans for the destruction of the Jews conceived by Haman were frustrated by Queen Esther, a Jewess, and the niece of Mordecai. Esther revealed the plot to the king, her royal spouse, and the perfidious prime minister was put to death. It was in gratitude for this miraculous deliverance that the feast of Purim was established. It is still a day of joyous celebration by the Orthodox Jews Washington the Mason.

SUFFRAGETTE ARMY KEEPS ON THE MARCH

"General" Rosalie Jones Leads Band of Women Over Stretch of Rough Roads.

Elkton, Md., Feb. 21.—Refreshed by a night's rest, here, "General" Rosalie Jones, suffragette army left at nine o'clock this morning for the march to Washington. The hikers' next stop reached Harre de Cruce about six o'clock this evening after sixteen miles of rough roads.

COLOMBIA REFUSES PANAMA SETTLEMENT

Offered by Taft Administration According to Bogota Newspapers.

Bogota, Colombia, Feb. 21.—The newspapers here declare today that the Colombian government has refused a proposed settlement of the dispute between the United States and Colombia over the partition of Panama which they say was offered by the Taft government. It is asserted that Colombia expects to obtain better terms from the incoming administration at Washington.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN MORGAN'S CONDITION

Rome, Feb. 21.—According to dispatches received here there have been no new developments in Mr. Morgan's condition. Prof. Bastiarte characterized his trip as merely "advisory." The professor was accompanied by his wife who was Miss Marion Rayle of Philadelphia.

Reports Favorable.

New York, Feb. 21.—Advices from Cairo received by J. P. Morgan and Company today in regard to the state of Mr. Morgan's health continues favorable. Nothing had been said in any of the messages it was stated with regard to a report that he had suffered from a stroke of apoplexy in addition to his attack of indigestion. The firm discredited the report.

SOME MINOR MATTERS DISPOSED OF TODAY

State Legislature Has Various Unimportant Items of Business up For Consideration.

Madison, Feb. 21.—Senator Linley's bill relating to social evil was revised and will be a special order for next Wednesday. Senators Browne and Monk offered petitions of citizens of Waupun and Clarke counties against the repeal of the teachers' pension fund law.

Senator Browne's bill relating to condemnation of school buildings was passed. The finance committee reported Senator Brown's bill appropriating $150,000 to supply the deficit in the highway aid fund for passage.

Two bills, Senator Burke's to authorize the erection of a monument and marking on the battlefield of Antitam and Senator True's proposal to compensate A. K. Bassett for damage done to fruit trees by deer were reported for slaughter.

The judiciary committee reported two bills for passage number 145 by which the judiciary relating to writs of error and number 1025 by Senator Kellogg providing for arrangements in certain cases by imprisonment in the workhouse or county jail.

Senate bills numbers 21, 80, 112, 199 and 243 were reported for indefinite postponement. The senate adjourned until Monday evening.

A petition of 200 citizens of Eau Claire in favor of boxing and a boxing commission was read to the assembly.

The Axel Johnson resolution asking congress to make it easier to adopt amendments to the federal constitution was unanimously adopted. Assemblyman Rosell's bill increasing the state aid to counties for land improvement was advanced from $1.50 to $1.75 per acre from $1.50 to $1.75 per acre.

No opposition interfered with the passage of the Axel Johnson bill permitting appeals to the state highway commission where town boards have refused permission to build highways lines on highways to 32 the assembly by a vote of 52 to 32 the assembly today advanced the bill making October 12 Columbus day a legal holiday.
Even the socialists split on the bill, week was advanced 65 to 15.

Against Second Bill.

Assemblyman Frederick questioned
the feasibility of the amendment that
the free lunch is a hardship on the saloon in view of the fact that the saloon's representatives were sent to Madison to oppose the bill. Neither did he think it was a piece of charity.
"Is there no other place for men to go for sustenance?" he asked.

He would not admit that free lunch would result by removing the harm lunch counter, and declared that for every man who leaves the free lunch at 6 or 7:30 o'clock at night there are fifty more who loiter until midnight.

Former Assemblyman C. B. Perry of Waunakee, former Assemblyman P. L. Cleary, representing the Wisconsin Brewers' association, and C. J.
Dobler, representing the town of Wau-waukee, spoke against the Frederick bill (204A) providing that no license shall be granted in any territory lying within one mile of the boundaries of any city or village in the state which has become dry territory.

Speaking of the town of Greenfield, Mr. Perry denounced the bill as unrepresentative in that it gives the people of one community the power to legislate as to conditions in other communities, thus violating the spirit of home rule. The people of the community affected should be allowed to settle their own excise matters for themselves, he said, a privilege which the bill in question would remove.

Call Bill Unfair.

Mr. Cleary said:
"The people in this state have as much right to saloons in their communities as those of private property. The saloons in this state are sentiment have to say whether their towns shall be dry. This bill is unfair because it gives one town the right to legislate for another."

Assemblyman Hawn saw in the bill a meritorious end in that it sought to keep out of an army community the influences of an adjoining wet region.
District Attorney Bogus said that if it were a purely local question the brewers would not be represented here. The debate drifted into a discussion of the difficulty of law enforcement against distasteful saloons. Mr. Cleary having offered to send a detective to the village of Melrose, Monroe county, to gather evidence to put the owner of a "joint" out of business. Mr. Bogus invited the same offer as to Columbia county "joints," one of which he had prosecuted to the extent of his legal means although the joint-keeper is still in business. He said the mills of the goods grind slowly in such cases.

BREWERY INTERESTS IN FIGHT ON BILLS

REGULATIONS MEASURES INTRO-DUCED BY ASSEMBLYMAN
FREDERICK CAUSE DIS-CUSSION BEFORE
COMMITTEE.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 21.—Assemblyman Frederick's bill prohibiting free lunches in saloons, except crackers, was denounced as a scheme of the cracker trust in an argument by Harry W. Bolens of Port Washington before the assembly committee on excise and fees yesterday afternoon.

Assemblyman Frederick defended his bill as an antidote for the evil of enlightenment into saloons. He was supported by District Attorney David Bogus of Columbia county and by Assemblyman Hawn of the committee.

Mr. Bolens said the principal purpose of the free lunch is the convenience of the steady patrons, who, coming home from work at six o'clock, desire stimulation by something extremely warm, and he declared that "buns" or "floaters" are not the main source of revenue. In fact, this element does much to make the free lunch anything but a paying proposition, he said.

In answer to Assemblyman Bolens's question, Mr. Bolens said he believed "buns" are created more by force of circumstances than by liquor, and that they take intoxicants largely as a "solace," and he admitted that a certain percentage of the "bum" class comes from drinking.

the feasibility of the amendment that

GERMANS CONSIDER MEXICAN SITUATION

Foreign Minister Thanks the United States For Protection Afforded To All Foreigners.

Berlin, Germany, Feb. 21.—The Mexican situation came up for consideration in the imperial parliament today when Gottlieb von Jagow the foreign minister replied to an interpolation as to what measures the government had taken for the protection of Germans in Mexico. He declared that Germany had not sent any warships to Mexico because the only warships available to Philadelphia for repairs.

The foreign office, however, had learned that the numerous United States warships in Mexican waters had been insured to give refuge to all foreigners and as far as possible to protect their property. The German foreign office has thanked the United States government for this service.

Von Jagow added that the German minister in Mexico had cabled that no Germans were killed during the fighting and only one a photographer slightly injured. As to damage done to German property the imperial government will take steps to secure full compensation from Mexico.

"Germany in general is committed to a policy of non-interference in the internal affairs of foreign states," said the minister, "but this will not prevent her from standing vigorously for the protecting of her subjects."

REPUBLICANS UNITE
IN WEST VIRGINIA

Caucus All Night to Determine on Candidate for the United States Senate.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 21.—At the close of a stormy caucus lasting until daybreak Judge Nathan Goff of the federal circuit court was today decided upon by the republicans of the West Virginia legislature for United States senator. The last ballot stood Goff 49 Elkins 9, Mann 4 and Edwards 1.

Judge Goff did not receive his election in the legislature today, the last day of the regular session, but his supporters were confident that the required number would be cast for him.

Extraordinary efforts were made during all of yesterday to bring the contending factions of the republicans together, but without success. Early today after the caucus had voted and talked for hours a young delegate stepped from his seat that Judge Goff was the only one of the men whose names had been mentioned in connection with the senatorship who could be elected. Delegate M. T. White, a supporter of Isaac N. Mann one of the

CLEVER COMPANY AT THE MYERS THEATRE IN MUSICAL COMEDY

In presenting the entire Chicago caste, with stage settings, just as produced at the La Salle theatre, the same clever chorus, the same costumes and stage effects, the La Salle Opera House Company last evening seated an audience which filled every seat at the Myers theatre with their production of "The Girl at the Gate."

There is nothing to the plot of the play, it is merely a jumble which is put together to give opportunity for the clever work of the principals. Miss Plamer, as Dooley Dunne, Princess of Paradise Isle, with her strange costumes, her gyrations, skilful dancing and tuneful little songs, was clearly the favorite. Mr. Phillips, as Courtleigh Staw, acted as a clever foil for Miss Plamer by play and proved himself capable of devising his own situations. Miss Weston, as Marjory Maitwell, was dainty, demure and pretty with a good voice which enabled her to receive many encores for "Her Eyes Kept Saying Kiss Me All the Time." Miss Mabel Callahan as Madeline Price was a good dancer and had a good stage presence adding to the interest in what little plot the play had, by clever dancing.

Forest Winant, as Normal Boone, ex-West Pointer and at present a down and outer, had a really beautiful voice and his rendering of the song hit of the entire list of musical numbers, "The World's All Wrong Again," won him a place in the hearts of the Janesville audience. Taking it all in all the production was most clever throughout. Act one took the audience to the bay of Panama and act two to the gate at the Japanese concession at the Panama-Pacific fair at San Francisco.

There was just enough by play running through the entire production to keep the interest up, interspersed with dances by a lightsome chorus and better still with tuneful melodies that were really sung, not mumbled out as in many musical ventures. Taking it all in all it was a most enjoyable entertainment that fully merited the packed house that greeted it.

FIFTY ARE STUDYING GASOLINE ENGINES

New Night School Class Proves Very Popular—Have Two Engines For Use in Demonstrations.

Fifty are now enrolled in the night school class in gasoline engines organized three weeks ago at the close of the course in elementary electricity. The course has proven one of the most popular in the night school curriculum. New students are being added constantly and many are attending the lectures though not enrolled as members of the class. The class meets every Tuesday evening and receives instruction from Prof. Elliott of College of Engineering of the University of Wisconsin. Outlines of his lectures with drawings and diagrams are furnished the students. The Bower City Implement Company has given the use of a Stover two-stroke cycle engine for demonstration purposes, and the Nitscher Implement Company a Fuller & Johnson engine of the four stroke cycle type. The instruction given is of a highly practical character. Chauffeurs, garage repair men, owners of automobiles, boat owners, operators of stationary engines, and others interested in motive power.

Demonstrations are also an important part of the instruction given the class in sublimation. Last night Percy Wiltgen of the Ziegler clothing store succeeded in making a hypothetical sale of a suit of clothes to Clarence Hemming, who as customer presented every possible objection to the garment offered for sale. At other recent meetings Theodore Brown succeeded in selling a pair of shoes to Paul Neystrom, the instructor, who proved a very obdurate customer, and in the human body is similar to electricity in a storage battery. It's the force that "makes things go."

This force—in the body—comes from the digestion and assimilation of Right Food; the kind Nature requires for building and maintaining healthy brain and nerve cells.

Grape-Nuts FOOD

contains the elements Nature has stored in wheat and barley, including the phosphate (grown in the grains)—absolutely necessary in combination with starches, sugars and albumens of the cereals, for normal cell-building.

You can keep Nervous Energy up to par on Grape-Nuts.

"There's a Reason"

Edward A. Buggs of the Parker Pen Company gave a demonstration of the sale of pens. At the next meeting of the class Walter Airis will attempt to make a hypothetical sale of a tailor-made suit to Miss Elizabeth Heller.

THIEF ROCKS CRADLE TO KEEP BABY QUIET

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Minneapolis, Feb. 21.—To keep the baby from crying and raising an alarm a burglar who entered the home of Arthur Sherer last night, rocked the cradle in the bedroom with his left hand while with his right he lighted matches and inspected the room.

A slight noise awakened Mrs. Sherer. In the faint light in the room she could see the cradle rocking lightly moved by an unseen hand. She lay and watched unable to waken her husband without being detected by the intruder.

A WRIT OF MANDAMUS ONLY HOPE OF RECALL

such but that there are a large number of them.

There has also been presented to me the affidavit of Lawrence Viney, wherein he states that the signature purporting to be his upon the petition and paper verified by James P. Conley is not his signature and that he never signed any petition for such recall or removal, also the affidavit of Joe Peckham stating that he can neither read nor write and that what purports to be his signature upon the petition verified by William Jaekle, is not his signature; that both said affidavits are hereto attached, filed herewith and made part of this certificate.

The law provides that the petition among other things, shall contain the affidavit or verification of one signer thereon stating, among other things, "that each signature to the papers appended is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be." A false affidavit is, of course, no affidavit at all, and an affidavit is as much false if it has one untrue statement therein as it would be, were every statement contrary to the fact. For this reason I must hold, and do find, that the two sheets verified as aforesaid by James P. Conley and William Jaekle do not comply with the law and must be rejected in determining the sufficiency of the petition. Each of such papers contains sixty-two (62) names.

For the reasons stated in the original certificate, by reason of the additional facts herein found and notwithstanding the filing of the affidavits heretofore mentioned and hereto attached, I must find the petition for the removal of Councilman Roy A. Cummings, insufficient and not in compliance with law, and I do so find and here certify.

Dated at Janesville, Wisconsin, February 20th, 1913.

FOUR MEN ARE ARRAIGNED ON INTOXICATION CHARGE

Three Plead Guilty and Take Jail Sentences—John McCloud Protests His Innocence.

Four men were arraigned before Judge Pfield in the municipal court this morning on a charge of intoxication, the first for many days past. Three of the number, Ed Walrath, John Brinkman and Frank Moran, pleaded guilty, but John McCloud protested that he was innocent and his trial was set for four o'clock this afternoon. McCloud, who recently completed a term in the county jail for frightening an aged couple while in an intoxicated condition, was arrested late last night by Patrolman Harry Smith at one of the depots. He explained that he had been awaiting money from his parents so that he could return home. It had been sent to the post office while he was in jail but no one was able to draw it for him and finally it had been returned to his parents. Walrath went down for ten Brinkman and Moran for five days, not being able to pay the fines imposed on them. Walrath has not been in court for nearly a year.

THE FINANCES.

As March 4th draws near and the change from a republican to a democratic administration is about to be consummated, it is interesting to watch the attitude with which the monied interests of the country view the situation. The Wall Street Journal comments on the financing of the new administration in the following manner:

"The new democratic administration will find much plainer sailing financially than was the case when President Cleveland entered office in 1893 and found plates already made for an issue of bonds to guard against an impending deficit. On the side of the maintenance of the gold standard, the Treasury now has a separate gold fund of $150,000,000, and has spare gold to the amount of about $110,000, 000, where in 1893 there was only a pittance.

"On the side of the budget the situation is so strong that it can hardly be seriously impaired, even if there should be some slackening of business activity. There is a general balance on hand of about $148,000,000, and the present fiscal year, which began on July 1st last, has made a better showing by $33,000,000, in excess of receipts over current expenditures, than during the same period of the previous year. As the surplus of receipts for the whole of last year was $37, 224,000, there is every indication of a surplus on June 30 next of nearly $70,000,000 for the current year. Unless the new administration proves much more extravagant than that of President Taft, even a considerable reduction of revenue will not create an adverse balance. In estimating the amount necessary to be raised by the income tax—if the democratic congress insists upon putting it in force—it will not be necessary to allow for a large deficit, unless tariff rates are cut more deeply than now seems likely to be the case.

"Even if the present overstrained condition of credit, due to causes which are not in any way political, should bring the country to a financial standstill, thereby reducing both customs and internal revenue receipts, the treasury would still have ample resources for meeting a temporary deficit. The Secretary of the Treasury has thus far paid more than half the cost of the Panama Canal out of his current cash. He has authority to pay the entire amount by the issue of bonds. Since the work is one of permanent value to posterity, it would be eminently proper that payment for it should be by a permanent lien upon the national wealth. The excess of the expenditures for the Canal over the amount of bonds thus far issued is $162,000,000.

"In case it became necessary to reimburse this amount to the Treasury by the sale of bonds, there would not doubt be an outcry from the opponents of the new administration—that bond issues were being used to meet current expenditures. It would be, however, in effect a case of 'sour grapes', and would represent a policy which would undoubtedly have been pursued under like conditions by a republican administration, in case of need, as was done in 1890, when the trust fund held for the retirement of national banknotes was turned into the Treasury current cash.

"With a rate of current receipts which promises an annual surplus of $70,000,000 and a lien by the Treasury upon the canal funds to the amount of $162,000,000, it would almost be possible for the incoming administration to play ducks and drakes with the national finances without bringing the country into serious difficulties. Perhaps these considerations will justify moderation in fixing the rate of the income tax or in deciding whether its imposition shall not be reserved for a period of greater need."

TURBULENT MEXICO.

Mexico is making history every day.
 Since Cortez and his Spanish hosts advanced on the capital of the old Montezumas, the country has been the scene of turbulent uprisings without number and except during a portion of former President Diaz' regime, has never been really united. Racial conditions have much to do with these existing conditions and perhaps looking at the situation from clear view of the English speaking or Teutonic mind, it is boy's play. How ever, to the insurgent leaders, it is life, very existence, and no matter who is named president, he will find opposition from many quarters just as his predecessor has. Conditions will not be altered until a more stable form of government is established, enforced by an armed force well equipped to meet any emergency.

MUCH DISTURBED.

Milwaukee citizens are much disturbed over the prospect of the removal of the state fair from their city by the present legislature. They begin to see what an asset this fair is and are realizing that they are merely the tail to the dog and can not war the whole dog as they thought they could. Wisconsin is proud of Milwaukee, and justly so, but Milwaukee fails to realize that Milwaukee is not the whole state of Wisconsin any more than Paris is France; Berlin Germany; or Chicago, Illinois. Other communities have their rights and when they are taxed to support a fair that the residents of the city it is located at do not appreciate, then it is time to move it elsewhere.

NOT CONFIRMED.

While Governor McGovern has removed from office Insurance Commissioner Ekern and appointed a successor to Fire Marshal Partell, these two officials still hold in office as the state senate has not approved of the appointments made. It is a strange state of affairs where the legislative branch of the state government is at loggerheads with the executive and one which is a blot on the fair name of the state. As long as reform with a capital R is in vogue in Wisconsin, we must expect such conditions along with lots of fool legislation as a side dish.

PARCEL POST

HOW TO USE IT.

(The new parcel post law includes some perplexing provisions. The Gazette is from day to day presenting a concise explanation of some of the more important sections of the law).

Liquids and oils, admissible to the mails and not exceeding eleven pounds in weight, will be accepted for mailing when intended for delivery at the office of mailing or on a rural route starting therefrom, when inclosed in a glass or metal container, securely closed and heavily wrapped, provided it is not necessary to transport them over steam or electric railways.

Admissible liquids and oils, pastes, salves, or other articles easily liquefiable, will be accepted for mailing regardless of distance when they conform to the following conditions: When in glass bottles the quantity must not exceed twelve ounces, liquid measure. The bottle must be very strong and must be inclosed in a block or tube of metal, wood, papiermache, or similar material; and there must be provided between the bottle and the block or tube a cushion of cotton, felt, or other absorbent. The block or tube, if of wood, must be at least three-sixteenths of an inch thick in its thinnest part; if of papier-mache or similar material, it must be at least one-eighth of an inch thick for bottles holding two ounces or less, and at least five thirty-seconds of an inch thick for bottles holding more than two ounces. The block or tube must be rendered watertight by an application of parafline or other suitable substance.

When in a metal container, the weight of the parcel must not exceed eleven pounds. The container must be hermetically sealed and inclosed in a strong box, and securely wrapped.

The Gazette Parcel Post Map gives the zone limits, rates and all the provisions of the law. It is a good Geographical map of the United States and for a quick comprehension of the parcel post law is invaluable. This map is now on sale at 25 cents, if called for at the Gazette office, or 35 cents by mail.

The map is FREE if you pay one year's subscription in advance to the Daily Gazette.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

HOW A GREAT INVENTION WAS BORN.

George Stephenson was an engine-wright in an English colliery.

Not a very lofty situation, was it, this engine-wright in a coal mine?

Yet Stephenson made it a fulcrum from which to move the world.

This was how he did it: The post was nine miles distant from the mine.
 A team road ran between, the cars being hauled by horses or mules.

Stephenson said he could make a steam engine that would do the work.

Others scoffed and sneered in the blind way that ignorance and stupidity fear at genius.

In two years Stephenson completed his engine, and it worked.

The result was the locomotive and the inauguration of a new age in the world's transportation.

No one can measure the influence of the railroad on human progress, yet it was started by a humble man in a lowly station.

This man had an idea and applied it to the immediate task he had in hand.
 He used the materials about him. Despite doubts and ridicule he remained loyal to the light given him.

Today he is among the immortals.
 It was exactly 100 years ago that George Stephenson was building his engine at the Killingworth colliery.

The succeeding century has seen the most wonderful progress in the world's history, and to this the poor enginewright's idea has perhaps been the chief contributor.

Such has been the history of practically all great inventions. They have been made by poor men who had to combat the unbelief of their fellows.

The steamboat, the telegraph, the telephone and the aeroplane are cases in point. They were designed by thinkers who had greater regard for their own ideas than for the howlings of those who did not understand.

These inventors followed the inner light rather than the outer darkness.
 They had vision.

They possessed the individual initiative to start, the energy to continue and the perseverance to carry through a great undertaking.

They were that rarest and highest human combination—practical idealists.
 They were benefactors, who have made this a new and better world.

Another Dog.

Griggs—Lost money in that stock deal, did you? Say, let me give you a pointer.

 ers for me. What I'm looking for now is a retriever.—Boston Transcript.

HICKEYVILLE CLARION.

Wedding at Hickeyville.

(From the Hickeyville Clarion.) Police society turned out en masse last Thursday evening at the home of Deacon Stubbs to attend the marriage of his daughter, Mrs. Anastia Stubbs Perkins Peabody Pringle Pettibone, to Mr. Ezra Hand, our popular village constable also notary public with seal, lawn mowers sharpened, signs painted, real estate and conveyancing and calling cards wrote with neatness and dispatch. The bride was given away by her father, who was not very nervous as he had given her away four times before but she came back every time. Mendel & Sons wedding march was played by Miss Pansy Tibbits, who presided at the piano, and the fatal words were spoke by Rev.
 Hanks of the Methodist church. The Rev. made the service very short as the fee was only a $2 bill. The bride wore the family jewels and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and didn't catch cold.

The presents were numerous and costly consisting of 47 little gold mun-tel clocks and 179 glass pickle bowls.
 Little Little Bibbins acted as ring bearer and the entire Ladies' Aid acted as tale bearers.

The happy couple left the house for the railroad depot amid a shower of rice and old shoes, during which the bride received an abrasion behind the left ear and the groom was struck five-times on the nose. Mrs. Hand is one of our most successful mid-winter brides and her husband is one of our astute business men. Both were wishing many happy returns of the day.
 Extensive refreshments consisting of red and pink peppermint wafers were served. Ye editor and wife were not among those invited. After the honeymoon the couple will probably reside with the bride's father if they reside at all.

Personal.

Amaluro—The only sure way of getting an article accepted by a magazine is to buy the majority of stock in the magazine and appoint an editor who is a personal friend. Then if your story isn't any good, it will probably be printed. If it is a good one, it will be returned with thanks.

Little—The handsomest man in the United States is Sam Kiser, the ver-sifier for the Chicago Record-Herald, but he is married, and is so respectable that he lives in Evanston.

Hank—it might help you some if you would keep regular habits. Try and get to bed by four o'clock every morning. That's our system.

Students—We don't know who Sav-onarolo was. He never played the sandville circuit which reached this city so far as we know. Maybe he was on the Orpheum or the Keith & Pro-cator time.

According to Uncle Abner.
 It doesn't make a particle of difference how much money a feller has got as long as he has plenty of it. A man doesn't have to live to be more than a hundred and fifty years old to find that out.

Sarah Bernhardt in "Queen Elizabeth"

When the Spanish Armada lay in the Thames threatening to destroy England body and soul, Elizabeth and her court anxiously awaited news of the impending battle at Plymouth.
 The long night of sorrow and suspense is past at last, and the news of the ruin of the Spanish fleet is followed by a wild gaiety and jubilation.

At the time of this scene in "Queen Elizabeth" Robert Devereaux, Earl of Essex, is the acknowledged favorite of the Queen and the pampered pet of her court. A new Lord Lieutenant is to be appointed to Ireland, and Essex obtains the coveted position. The scene shows the favorite's departure for Ireland.

There is a "But" in every man's life. Lord Essex admired his generous sovereign and appreciated her regard for him.
 BUT—she was many years older than himself, and his affections have then turned to the Countess of Nottingham, to whom he comes to bid farewell before his departure. Fate enters the room with Essex, and Nottingham observes his young wife in his enemy's arms.

Bent on Essex' downfall the Earl of Nottingham accuses him of treason and deceit and when the Queen subsequently learns of his clandestine love for the Countess she orders his arrest and conviction. In the present scene, torn between her emotions, her wounded pride battling with her real desire to spare him, she yields to the jealous subtleties of her minister's and her own vanquished vanity and signs Essex' death warrant.

Lord Essex was brave, bold, courageous. Little wonder that as Queen Elizabeth watched, him pass through the crowded street on his return from Westminster after his condemnation, literally walking to his own funeral, she sobbed in self-reproach and repentance, and realized, in the moment of his impending death, that his life was necessary to hers and its happiness.

From the day of Lord Essex execution, every hour brought Queen Elizabeth nearer the grave. The ghosts of the happy minutes of the past, when she lived in Essex' smiles, would steal into her memory and leer at the futility of her repentance.
 The gaiety and laughter of the palace were succeeded by the sombre silence of a thing worse than death—hopelessness. Until at last the broken heart and the weeping soul found peace in the Final Rest.

DON'T SCOLD CROSS IRRITABLE CHILDREN

IF TONGUE IS COATED, STOMACH SOUR, BREATH FEVERISH, BOWELS CLOGGED, GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS."

Mother! look at the tongue! see if it is coated. If your child is listless, drooping isn't sleeping well is restless doesn't eat heartily or is cross, irritable, out of sorts with everybody, stomach sour, feverish, breath bad, has stomachache, diarrhoea, sore throat or is full of cold, it means the little ones' stomach, liver and bowels are filled with poisons and clogged up with waste and need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

Give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours the foul, decaying constipated matter, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well and smiling child shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful, besides they dearly love its delicious taste.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

CURES RHEUMATISM QUICKLY EASES STIFF, SORE, SWOLLEN JOINTS AND MUSCLES—DRIVES RHEUMATIC PAINS AWAY.

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can easily avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood, the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone does this, because it neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter the poison from the blood, and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overdone urinary disorders.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS AND ART EXHIBITS AT ADAMS SCHOOL

Seventh and Eighth Grades Give Elaborate Patriotic Entertainments—Parents 'Inspect' Pupils' Work.

Elaborate patriotic programs in observance of Washington's birthday were given by the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades at the Adams school this afternoon. After the entertainments the school held its annual reception to parents and a large number of second ward folk interested in the school work inspected the fine exhibits of drawing, painting, weaving and other art work.

In the seventh grade a "Revolutionary Masquerade" was given in which the pupils costumed to represent notables of the period of '76, made a very attractive picture. The cast was as follows:

COLLEGE STUDENTS PRESENT TRAGEDY

Milton College Society Gives "Julius Caesar" in Creditable Manner Thursday Evening.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Milton, Feb. 21.—The tragedy of Julius Caesar was given by the Idema Lyceum before a large audience on Thursday evening, Feb. 20. The graves opened, the ghosts walked and Brutus ate to Caesar's mind the price of his ambition and suffered death, but he was beheaded two minutes later by an angry mob, carrying red bandana handkerchiefs, demanding vengeance. The last two scenes pictured "triumphant triumph" and on the plains of Philippi all Caesar's wrongs were avenged.

Following is the cast:

Julius Caesar... Miriam Post

Brutus... Margaret McLay

Mark Antony... Anna Gurley

Octavius Caesar... Zea Zinn

Mark Lepidus... Aster Davis

Cassius... Mary McLay

Casca... Mabel Lewis

Qrebonius... Kitty Cole

Pindarus... Cecil Crandall

Cato—Soothsayer... Anna Post

"A GIRL OF THE MOUNTAINS."

"A Girl of the Mountains" the four act society drama by Lem B. Parker, is something new, something worth seeing, at the Myers theatre, Sunday, Feb. 23, matinee and evening. It develops a strong plot with very dramatic situations in such a delicate and picturesque style that one must at once place it far above the ordinary drama. An especially strong scene, one that will grip the audience, is brought about when Nellie, the Mountain girl, discovers that she has been betrayed by Richard Thurston, a wealthy New Yorker. The scene is most graphic and telling and bound to command unflinching attention. The critics of the country have praised "The Girl of the Mountains," until its fame is second to none. The public, which pays its good money to be entertained at the theatre, has seen, marvelled and commended in pleasing terms. There is nothing more to be said but go and see it.

RAINEY PICTURES.

Many thousand miles away from here, in British East Africa, is an animal farm, belonging to Col. Tarleton. He does not raise animals, but catches them in traps and pits which are holes in the ground, and then covered with small branches of trees, over

Of course, he squealed when he was caught. Col. Tarleton brought him to his farm, and the little rhino became attached to Wombassa, the negro who is here seen feeding him.

These pits are always made near water-holes, or drinking places. Coming out of the jungle, the wild beasts on their way to drink, fall into the traps, and are easily captured.

WOULD LIVE TO BE 110? DO AS OLD EGYPTIANS; HAVE WIFE TICKLE FEET.

Years ago when Cleopatra was running the "Beauty Hints" column in the Cairo Gazette, some one wrote in and wanted to know how to live to be 110 years old. And Cleo. answered: Drink 100 jars of beer a day and let your wives tickle your feet.

At least that's the way these ancient Egyptians grew old, according to Prof. Max Muller of the University of Pennsylvania.

"The professor declares that papyrus scripts discovered along the Nile prove what he says beyond peradventure of a doubt. Which may be considered pretty good proof. The Egyptian nobleman of that early day was very particular to have his feet tickled before retiring and every one of his many 'halves' got a tickle. While of course the exact manner in which the tickling was done is necessarily problematic—we have no 3-col. halftone, dug up along the Nile to clear up this point—yet we imagine that the Egyptian nobleman when he wished to go through the feet tickling ceremony, lined his wives up and after reclining in such a way as to expose the bottoms of his feet allowed each wife to pass by and administer one tickle apiece. Of course they were each provided previously with a feather duster, a rake or a hatchet; it being before the "Equal Suffrage" movement and perfectly safe to entrust a woman with an implement.

We are sorry the prof. mentioned that about the beer. If it is true that they drank 100 hundred of suds a day we're afraid that their right age was of course the exact manner in which

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Editor Janesville Gazette:

In a late issue of the Gazette I read a long article—nearly a column—criticizing the alleged Holmes bill, signed by Mr. Sweeney of Edgerton.

I am a plain hunt farmer, used to taking the bull by the horns and have no patience with long winded arguments, especially when they do not come within rifle shot of the real issue.

Without attempting to defend this bill, or to excuse an occasional dishonest farmer, I would like to ask a plain question and I would like some fair honest man to answer it.

Who is to blame for the kicking and squealing heard at the time of delivering tobacco? Is it the hardworking tobacco grower, who toils and sweats through the summer trying his best to raise a good crop of tobacco, asking only to be let alone until he can get his crop ready for market?

Or is it the fellows who race around the country every summer—staying shortly after the tobacco is set—harassing and tormenting farmers and offering inflated prices, in their efforts to "dog out dog," and beat each other, and then, at delivery time, are not sports enough to stand up and take their medicine, except when some hard headed farmer forces them to do so?

Mr. Sweeney cites the case of the stock buyers buying hogs that developed cholera, as a parallel case. It is not a parallel case. Did Mr. Sweeney ever hear of a hog buyer going out and buying sucking pigs to be delivered when they become mature hogs? There is his parallel case.

When a stock buyer goes out to buy stock, he and delivery takes place almost simultaneously, and, in not one case in a hundred, is there any complaint from either party.

There should be a law prohibiting the buying or selling of anything not possessed by the one who sells, or, in other words, the dealing in futures.

It is nothing less than gambling pure and simple.

Unconscious Humor.

The annual of unconscious pulpit humor will be enriched by an instance furnished some little time ago at St. John's church, Keswick, England. A lady's watch has been found in the churchyard, and the vicar, in making his usual weekly announcements from the pulpit, referring to the find, stated that the watch could be claimed in the vestry. The next announcement was: "We will sing hymn No. 382: 'Lord, Her Watch Thy Church Is Keeping.'"

BRODHEAD

Brohead, Feb. 21.—Miss Maggie Mulvihill passed away at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Dumer on Thursday morning, Feb. 20, of tuberculosis. The funeral will be held at St. Rose's church on this city on Saturday morning, Feb. 22, at 9:00 o'clock.

The Sunday school classes of Misses Lillian M. Foelt and Ruth Stair will hold a social in the M. E. church parlors this Friday evening. All are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Palmer have been in El Paso, Illinois, the past day or two, called there by the death of Mrs. Wm. Alcott who died suddenly from heart disease. The deceased was a former resident of Brohead and highly esteemed by all who knew her.

Word has been received here of the death at Los Angeles, California, of Mrs. Fannie Stewart, formerly of Brohead.

Seats for the lecture of Hon. Frank J. Cannon the next attraction of the lecture course, will be reserved next Tuesday morning, Feb. 25, at eight o'clock at Blackbourne's.

There will be a game of basketball this evening in the high school gymnasium, between the Evansville H. S. team and the local H. S. team. A preliminary game will also be played between the Evansville juniors and the Brohead Cannon Ball Badgers.

The local high school students will present the play, "How the Vote was Won and Rejected," on Monday evening, Feb. 24, in Broughton's Opera House. Seats now on sale at Blackbourne's are going fast.

Miss Daisy Fleck has been sick the past week.

Washington birthday exercises were indulged in by some of the grades in our public school today, that were well executed.

The Fourth Dimension

By E. O. SELLERS,
Director of Evening Department, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—Able to comprehend with all the senses what is the breadth and length and depth and height; and to know the love of Christ that passeth knowledge.—Eph. 1:18, 19.

We can readily understand how a given point in an equilateral triangle is equally distant from three given points, or how in a tetrahedron, a point can be equally distant from four given points. But thus far in our consciousness of matter we have not been able to demonstrate a fourth dimension. As far back as Plato's day the idea was suggested, and recently a twelve-year-old boy attempted mathematically to demonstrate it before the professors of Harvard university.

When, however, we pass from the realm of the physical to the spiritual, we find this idea clearly expressed in our text. The humble bowing of the Apostle's knees at the beginning of this matchless prayer, and the limitless heights of "glory" transcending our human capacity of comprehension. In the center of this stands the text, as though Paul, pausing at some vantage point, would look to the right and the left, backward and upward, and exclaim, "Oh, that you might comprehend the breadth, the length, the depth and height of the love of Christ." Let us apply these four measurements to our lives.

I. Breadth. We pride ourselves upon breaking from provincialism and narrowness, and that the world is laid upon our breakfast table each morning; but unless our activities are also quickened of what benefit is our world-wide vision? Our big cities are provincial. Many a New Yorker thinks the world begins at the Battery and ends at Yonkers. There are scores in Chicago as absolutely ignorant of the resources, need or people of China, Japan or even Europe as they are of the planet Mars, yet they say "take care of the home field before you do anything for foreign missions." We need not only a world vision, but more breadth of vision of the problems of labor, social and civic life.

II. Length. Persistence, stick-to-it-iveness. A gentleman was asked why so few great clerical men in America, and his reply was, "America is in too great a hurry." Of course perspective leads to a wrong estimate of greatness, but certainly we need more ministers who are "forth-tellers" of God's message to lost men. When clergy and laity learn to think through to a conclusion these questions of ethics, reform, world needs and, most important of all, the needs of the human soul, and will apply themselves to these problems with persistence and abandon, we shall have clergy and laity whose leadership will never be called in question.

III. Depth. Americans are fond of a "good front," but have we corresponding depth? Study our cheap front architecture, music, business and waste. Are we right on fundamentals? Our thinking must stand upon a better foundation than the shifting sands of philosophy. Our statements of life be based upon more enduring ground than the nebulous unstable assertions of false science. Our commercial fabric must be built upon a more stable basis than that of expediency. Our moral code must be less concerned with pleasure seeking externals and consist more of rectified, purified, redeemed lives of holiness and integrity.

IV. But Paul had a fourth dimension, "the heights of glory"—the God side of life. We all respond to the suggestion of a world vision because of our business relations. We spell success with a dollar mark. Material success does demand a world vision and a concentration that is sapping the vigor of our manhood. But we do urge upon all to measure his life by his fourth dimension, the love of God that passeth knowledge. Who can span the extent of breadth? Who can find the ultimate end of length or plumb the lowest bottom of all depth or measure the uttermost limits of the heights of God's love for us in Christ Jesus? A love that was willing to empty himself and to become obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

"When I survey the wondrous Cross On which the Prince of glory died, My richest gain I count but loss, And pour contempt on all my pride."

Let us lift our eyes from the material to the spiritual. This vision is the transforming vision that led forth the prophets of old and that moved Martin Luther and every other great reformer. This vision was the power giving vision of Dwight L. Moody, Frances Willard and all of the rest. This was the peace giving, healing vision of Florence Nightingale and that has comforted the hearts of the saints throughout the ages amidst all the vicissitudes of life.

Measure your life by this and you will indeed "be filled unto all the fullness of God."

Control of Man.

MADERO'S BROTHER ST. JOHN'S STUDENT FEARS FOR HIS KIN

Janesville Boys Attending Military School Acquainted With Youthful Mexican.

In a small room in the dormitory of St. John's military academy, at Del Rio, Carlos Madero, a young, old brother of Francisco Madero, deposed president of Mexico, is fighting the hardest of all battles—the battle of uncertainty.

Young Madero is well known to George Sherman son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sherman of town of La Prairie, and Fred Ray Jr., son of Fred Ray, Sr. of this city, who are attending the military academy. Several other Janesville young persons who have visited at the school have also met the young Mexican.

He has read in the press dispatches that Francisco Madero has been deposed, and that Gustavo, another brother, has been shot and killed by the revolutionists. He also has been told that his aged father and mother are waiting at Vera Cruz to make their escape to some friendly European country. He knows that it is possible that every member of his family, father, mother, brothers and sisters may be killed within the week by revolutionists.

Yet through it all the young cadet asserts that he is "a good patriotic Mexican," who believes in the future of his country, which must in time be restored to peace and prosperity without any intervention from the United States.

Tells of Elder's Mistakes. Seated on the bed in his small room, young Madero, who is rated as being the nerviest and strongest athlete in the St. John's academy, told what he considered to have been his elder's mistakes which had shown him unfit for the presidency of a revolutionary republic. Although the young man has been only one year in the United States, he speaks English almost perfectly, and discussed the outlook in his native republic as might have done a man twice his years.

"My brother, Francisco, was not fitted to be a president of a republic such as Mexico," said he. "My brother was at heart a student and not a soldier or politician. He was educated in Paris and spent most of his time upon his return to Mexico in reading the works of the ancient Greek and Roman poets. He was a—what you call it in English?—a philosopher. He never ate meat, nor did he ever use tobacco or liquor."

Tried to Better Conditions. "He was for a time the superintendent of my father's cotton plantation in a Mexican town, and here it was he was the first condition under which the Mexican laborers were living. He started out to change these conditions on our plantation, and he became known among the common people. When the revolt against President Diaz came he entered the struggle and at the end was chosen president, but he is not a soldier."

"The trouble with my brother is that he is too kindhearted. The men who took part in a revolt against him were always pardoned. He made a mistake when he refused to execute Felix Diaz when he was under arrest and in prison. He also made a mistake when he allowed the press of Mexico the right of 'free speech.' The papers printed misstatements about him and aroused dissatisfaction among the people. He was to blame for this."

Has Been Much Worried. "You see," he continued, "I, of course, have been much worried. This afternoon I took a long walk across the hills and my eyes ached. He rubbed his eyes for a few seconds, then again began his recital of conditions in Mexico."

That his brother Gustavo had been shot and killed, young Madero attributed to the fact that "he was a more forceful man than my brother."

In speaking of the deposed president, the lad always referred to him as "my brother." Other members of the family, however, he called by name. Gustavo was a more forceful man than my brother," he repeated, again swallowing hard. "They tell me Gustavo is dead. I do not know, but I believe that he is. Gustavo was a man who did things. Had he been president he would have shot Diaz without ceremony, and probably the revolution would have ended there. It was because he did things which he thought right that the people did not like him."

Won't Try to Regain Power. "I do not think so. I do not think that my brother again would care to be president. He wanted to better the conditions of the people. Now, when it has been shown that his efforts failed, I do not think he would care to cause more bloodshed. By the way, is a man of peace and not a fighting man. Let us call down there a citizen clothes man."

"What do you think of intervention by the United States to restore order in Mexico?" young Madero was asked. For a moment anxiety of parents and brothers was forgotten, while the patriotism of the Mexican asserted itself.

Is Against Intervention. "I do not want anything like that," said he, with eyes flashing. "Every Mexican is taught in childhood that the United States is the natural enemy of the republic. We would rather have our friends killed during years of strife than to have any intervention by foreign powers. If the United States should send troops down there, I would return and fight against them."

"I have been taught by my parents that Mexico must work out her own future. If lives are lost it is the price we must be willing to pay. I do not know what will happen to my father and mother or to my remaining brothers and sisters."

"I try not to think about their possible fates. I work hard in the classes here and also in the gymnasium in attempt to keep my mind occupied. Today I took a long walk over the hills. Just look at the mud on my trousers. You must pardon me for being so untidy."

To Take Up Agriculture. Pointing to the offending trousers legs, the youth again lapsed into silence.

Asked what he expected to do upon being graduated from the academy, he said: "I do not know exactly just now. Of course, much depends on what happens to my people. I think, however, that no matter what happens, my future is in my own country. I will take my chances in Mexico. I hope to enter Cornell university in a year, and there I will take a course in agriculture on the cotton plantation."

After a moment's pause, young Madero expressed the hope that Gen. Huerta, the new president, would not permit the execution of Francisco Madero.

Brother Kind to Huerta. "I do not just lead myself to think Gen. Huerta will allow Diaz to have by brother shot," he said. "My brother has been kind to Huerta, and at one time saved his life. I am certain that the president will not permit him to be killed. I wish I knew, though, I do wish I knew what will happen to them all."

Just then the bell in the tower tolled seven times, and the lad, who had been worrying over the probable fate of his family, jumped up, saying: "Pardon me, please. That is seven o'clock and I must go to choir practice. You know I get ten credits for not missing, and must not let by troubles keep me from my duties here." He extended his hand, bowed himself from the room, and the interview was ended.

Microbes in Your Scalp

Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Unna, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists. This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become shiny. Then it is believed nothing will revive the growth. If treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Unna, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else can to move the hair and stop falling hair, and if any human agency can promote a new growth of hair it will do that, too.

We want you to make us prove it. We will pay for a month's treatment of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic used during a trial, if you will use it according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we will do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your money request will get your money back if you want it. Two sizes: 50c and $1.00.

DINNER STORIES

Speaking of brevity, William F. Garcelon, chairman of the Harvard athletic committee, said recently that the palm should be awarded to a marine who testified about the explosion of a gun upon a war vessel. The marine testified at a hearing after he had spent some months in the hospital being patched up after the accident.

"Please give your version of the explosion," he was asked. "Well," he replied, "I was standing behind the gun, there was an awful racket, and the doctor said 'Sit up and take this.'"

John Drew has always been noted for his clever retorts. His latest, which is credited with having occurred in a Broadway barber shop, somewhat dumfounded the censorious artist.

Mr. Drew has very fine and silky brown hair. It looks a little thin when it is uncombed, but properly arranged it shows itself to very thick and comely.

As the barber laid his moist, cool palm on the actor's skull he said: "You are somewhat bald, sir. Have you tried our special tonic?"

"Yes," returned Mr. Drew, "but that wasn't what made my hair fall out."

The following is related of a good justice of the peace in Massachusetts in colonial times.

On a cold night in winter a traveler called at his house for lodging. The ready hospitality of the justice was about being displayed when the stranger unluckily uttered a word which his host considered profane.

Whereupon he informed his guest that he was a magistrate, pointed out the nature of the offense and explained the necessity of its being expiated by sitting an hour in the stocks.

Remonstrance was unavailing, for custom at that time allowed the magistrate to convict and punish at once, and in this case the magistrate acted as accuser, witness, jury, judge and sheriff, all in one.

aided by his son, conducted the traveler to the place of punishment, an open spot near the meeting house, where the stocks were placed. Here the wayfarer was confined in the usual manner. The benevolent executor of the law remaining with him to beguile the time of its tedium by edifying conversation.

At the expiration of the hour he was reconducted to the house and hospitably entertained until the next morning, when the traveler departed.

One cold winter morning, a man of tall, angular build was walking down a steep hill at a quick pace. A treacherous piece of ice under the snow caused him to lose control of his feet; he began to slide and was unable to stop. At a cross street half way down the incline he encountered a large, heavy woman, with her arms full of bundles. The meeting was sudden. Before either realized it there was a collision, and both went sliding down hill, a grand ensemble—the thin man beneath and the fat woman, with her bundles on top. When the bottom had reached the street the woman was trying in vain to recover her breath and her feet, those faint words were heard to her ears: "Pardon me, madam, but you will have to get off here. This is as far as I go."

When the late Franklin Fyles first visited London he told his traveling companion, as they rose from breakfast the first morning, that he would have to go some most of the day. "I've got to see a doctor and a lawyer to whom I have cards of introduction," he explained, "and there are a couple of dramatic critics here who've written me to call as soon as I reached town. Then I'm going to hunt up Goldsmith's grave in Temple Garden—I'd rather see that than any one thing in all England." A few minutes past ten Mr. Fyles walked into the hotel again, and, to his friend's surprise, look, merely said: "Doctor and lawyer and critics all out. Only man at home was Oliver."

Mayor Caynor, defending New York from a charge of undue wickedness, said at a recent dinner: "There is no more wickedness here than there is in London or Paris or Berlin. They who find wickedness are usually seeking it—and we find what we seek, whether it is a roulette game or a song service. Those critics remind me of the hotel cashier who after paying a lot of food and liquor and tobacco bills, returned to the hotel drunk. 'All those people treated me,' he explained, 'when I handed them their checks.' 'Well,' said the proprietor, shocked, 'is it possible that none of my creditors are temperance people?' 'Some of them are,' the cashier admitted, 'but their checks I sent to them by mail.'"

Old Kink's always willing to preach, and hand out wise counsel and reach; but ask him for aid when you're hungry and frayed, and he'll stick to his wad like a leech. He's handy with proverb and text to comfort the needy and vexed; but when there's a plan to feed indigent man, old Kink never seems to get next. He'll help out the widow with psalms, and pray for her fatherless lambs; but he never would try to bring joy to her eye with codfish and sauerkraut and jams. On Sunday he's generous in the hymn book responses with vim; when they pass round the box for the worshippers' rocks, his gift is exceedingly slim. He thinks he is fooling the Lord and is sure of a princely reward when heaven he goes at this life's journey's close—with which view I am not in accord. For the Lord, he is wise to gold bricks, and the humbug who crosses the Styx will have to be sharp if he captures a harp; St. Peter will say to him, "Nix!" They size up a man nearly right when he comes to the portals of light; and no stinky old fraud ever thimble-rigged God or put on a robe snowy white.

Giving Away the Secret. Willing to have his neighbors think he was a fine musician, Brown installed a mechanical piano near a front window of his home, where he spent hours each day pedaling out melodies. "Your father is a great piano player, isn't he?" one of the neighbors remarked to Brown's boy William one afternoon. "Yes," replied William, "but it makes his feet awful sore."

This Should Keep The Baby Healthy

When It Is Ill Don't Become Alarmed But Give This Fine Laxative.

It is often difficult to tell just what is the matter with a crying, peevish baby or child too young to express its feelings in words, but as a general rule the mother will find that there is a tendency to constipation, which has brought on a headache or nervousness. The little one has no pain, but feels out of "sorts."

The first thing to try is a family remedy containing good but mild laxative properties, and many mothers will say that their choice would be Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers keep it in the house for such emergencies, among whom may be mentioned Mrs. Jennie Manuel, Alhambra, Ill., who began to give her baby Frederick, Syrup Pepsin when he was six months old, and has used it ever since with gratifying results. She writes that Frederick was not growing well and threw up his food, but after a few days use of Syrup Pepsin he was able to retain his food and gained rapidly in weight. Thousands of others are glad to say that Syrup Pepsin saved them many an illness and many a large doctor bill, for by administering it promptly when the first symptoms of illness were noticed, they prevented a serious ailment.

It is so pleasant-tasting that no child will refuse it, and as it does not gripe, the child is glad to take it again. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter being the size bought by families already familiar with its merits. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Syrup Pepsin is for all the family from infancy to old age, and because of its mildness families should prefer it over all other remedies. It is absolutely safe and reliable. You will never again give cathartics, pills, salts or such harsh physics, for they are usually unnecessary, and in the case of children, women and elderly people are a great shock to the system, and hence should be avoided.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address by postal will do to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

HICKORY NUT PEOPLE.

THE OTHER day I heard a man ask one of his superiors in business for a favor. He asked him in a pleasant, half joking manner and if refusal were necessary, might easily have been refused in the same light vein. But instead of doing this, the older man's answer was so curt and sharp and almost rude, that it must have made his employee feel as if he had run plump up against a stone wall. Even I, who was a disinterested witness, felt as one does when the clouds suddenly shut out the sun on an April morning.

Anyone would certainly have received the impression that the older man was offended at being asked for the favor and took pleasure in refusing it in as disagreeable a manner as possible.

What was my surprise when I afterwards happened to find out that even before he was asked, he had tried of his own accord to make it possible to grant this privilege to his young employee and was much disappointed when he found it impossible.

Now why on earth couldn't he have given some hint of this in his manner? Why couldn't he have spoken in a kindly tone and expressed some regret? What harm could it have done, and how much less uncomfortable it would have made his petitioner.

And this is the sort of thing that man is continually doing—putting himself out to benefit people, and then being so abrupt and sharp and sometimes so undeniably rude in his manner toward them that they take him for the crassest old curmudgeon in the world.

Of course the people who know him intimately know that he really has a heart of gold, but they are very few. He isn't the kind who invites intimates. Now it seems to me that this man is a fairly common type. There are a great many people in this world who are like the hickory nut, sound and sweet as can be inside, but encased in a stiff, impenetrable manner.

I know a woman who has the kindest heart in the world and the most unfortunate manner. She is always trying to help people and always being rebuffed and misunderstood because of her nervous and irritating way.

Of course what one does is more important than the manner in which one does it, but not so much more important as many people seem to think.

A gracious manner is a gift to all with whom we come in contact. It softens and alleviates refusal, and enhances the value of benefits conferred.

One of my pleasantest recollections of all my newspaper work is that of a woman who refused me an interview, but refused it with an exquisite graciousness and kindly regret that took all the sting out of my disappointment.

A pleasant manner is something that we owe both to those about us and to ourselves. To those about us because it helps make life pleasant for them. To ourselves because our manner is the only measure which most people have to judge us by, and therefore we ought to look well to it.

The Kitchen Cabinet

IT IS a good and safe rule to follow in every place as if you meant to spend your life there, never committing an opportunity of doing a kindness, or speaking a true word, or making a friend.

WAYS OF SERVING VEGETABLES.

Let us be reminded that there are more than two hundred ways of cooking and preparing potatoes, and try to learn a few new ones each week or two, to change the monotony of mashed and baked and boiled and fried potatoes, which are the common ways of serving them.

When you are cooking doughnuts, arrange to have French fried potatoes. Cut them in eighths lengthwise and fry in the hot fat, sprinkle with salt and put in the heater to keep hot until needed to serve.

When baking potatoes, for a variety, cut a slice off from the top and scoop out a little potato, fill with a slice of bacon, put on the slice and fasten with a toothpick. Bake, and when done the bacon will have seasoned the whole potato.

Swedish Cabbage.—Boil in salted water for twenty minutes a dozen good-sized leaves of cabbage. Drain them and fill with the following mixture: A pound of beef chopped fine, one egg, two tablespoons of cream, one-half teaspoon of white pepper, one teaspoonful of salt, one of chopped parsley. Rub the dish with the cut side of a clove of garlic. Mix thoroughly and roll each leaf around a tablespoonful of this mixture; trim the ends neatly and tie or skewer. Lay in a dripping pan, with a pint of stock or butter and water. Bake frequently, and bake for half an hour, or until tender. Remove the rolls, thicken the gravy and pour over the cabbage.

Scalloped Onions.—Parboil a sufficient quantity of onions for the family, prepare a cup of white sauce by cooking together two tablespoons each of butter and flour and a teaspoonful of salt, a cup of milk added, then cook until thick. Add white pepper and pour over a layer of onions, then sprinkle with cheese; add another layer of onions and white sauce, and finish the top with buttered crumbs. Bake until well browned.

THE DAILY NOVELETTE

TIRED OF IT ALL.

"The dink, dink mist of the purple pelt. The slumbering slump of the wood-bine off;

The dankous leaf; yea, all words seen in almost any magazine!"

"I'm tired of it all!" she cried passionately. "I'm going to end it all!"

Not daring to deny the overwhelming logic of desiring to end it all, being tired of it all, still, they sought to dissuade her.

"You did not want her to end it all. 'Don't end it all!' they besought. 'Better things are coming.'"

"Empty chatter," she told them. "I'm going to end it all."

Slowly she raised her hand. "It is true!" they whispered. "She is going to end it all!"

Her hand was still raised. "This is the last!" she breathed. And slowly, deliberately, she trumped her partner's ace.

THE MIXING OF MEAT AND STARCHES.

"It is generally believed that lots of meat-eating, predisposes to contagious diseases," says Dr. James Heggessy, "but let me assure you that it can do it only with the aid of starchy foods, like bread, potatoes, etc. European peasants live long and healthy lives on a diet consisting of little more than coarse bread, and the poor Irish live long and show superior mental activity on a diet consisting almost entirely of potatoes and buttermilk, and the Eskimo and cannibals are immune from consumption and cancer on an exclusive flesh diet. I have frequently emphasized the opinion that appendicitis is largely due to the mixing of flesh and starch foods, not to either separately. Health is harmony and the chemical disharmony that results from the mixing of incompatible foods is its worst enemy. We may not wish to adopt an exclusive monodiet except in sickness, but we can have the best health and efficiency, physical, mental and moral, only by approximating the monodiet."

CHATS WITH THINKING WOMEN
by Barbara Boyd
Love And Mathematics

SOME one has said that "Love never counts the cost." Is not that little sentence full of thought, of inspiration, really of good counsel? Will it not help us to settle some of our problems?

Love is no bargainer. It does not haggle, or cast up accounts. It doesn't try to figure out "How much am I getting out of this deal?" It gives freely and asks nothing in return. It gives all, if necessary, and is happy in the giving.

And isn't the truth expressed in this little statement, the acid test to show whether we really love or not?

A man is sent by his firm to some far away post. He is lonely, and he rebels at going. She says she won't go; or if she goes, it is as a martyr.

Does she truly love her husband, that is, love him in the biggest, finest way?

"Love never counts the cost," is the answer.

If she loved him wholly, she would go without a thought of self to share his hardships, and if possible, to make the life there brighter and happier for him.

In other matters, both love and duty will often join hands to point to a course we should take.

But we stop to count the cost. It will mean we must give up this, we must sacrifice that, and we alter. We shrink. We think we are not quite called upon to sacrifice so much.

But ah! love never counts the cost. And sometimes, when perhaps it is too late, we will realize with keen anguish of heart how really little and selfish was our love, that we could withhold from those who needed, the things our love could have given.

We stopped to count the cost. And so we didn't generously love. Often it is not until those to whom we should have given, without counting, have gone beyond the reach of our gift, that we realize how miserably we were.

And then there is a heart-ache that never is assuaged.

Better is it to take this bit of sound philosophy on faith, if we do not yet realize its truth in our consciousness, and give without counting.

And if we do, we will be supremely happy. For when self drops out of sight, we begin to understand that hard saying, "He that loseth his life shall find it."

Salmon Salad.

Select a nice salmon steak at least two inches thick. Tie or wrap in a piece of cheesecloth. Half fill a kettle with boiling water to which you have added a slice of onion, a bay leaf, a blade of mace, four teaspoonfuls of vinegar or lemon juice and a teaspoonful of salt. Be sure that the salmon is covered with the water; simmer 20 minutes. Lift carefully and lay on a bed of crisp lettuce leaves and surround with peas in an attractive manner or change to tartar sauce by the addition of chopped olives, gherkins, parsley and capers. Very nice as a luncheon or supper dish.

Berkshire Salad With Indian Dressing.

Materials:—Tomatoes, asparagus tips, green and red peppers. Indian dressing: Yolks of two hard-boiled eggs; one-fourth teaspoonful paprika; three-fourths teaspoonful salt; one tablespoonful lemon juice; two tablespoonfuls vinegar; one-half cup olive or peanut oil; white pepper and cayenne, red and green peppers, and beets, each one tablespoonful finely chopped parsley one teaspoonful.

Directions:—Peel the tomatoes, remove the centers and insert the asparagus tips, cut to fit. Put over the fire a ring of the cooked beets, then one of green peppers and last one of sweet red pepper or pimento. Set on lettuce leaves and serve with Indian dressing.

Make a French dressing with the hard-boiled yolks pressed through a sieve; all the paprika, salt, pepper, cayenne and gradually the oil and acids. When thoroughly blended add the given amounts of green and red peppers or pimentos and parsley.

Palmetto Salad.

Select nice white celery and cut with scissors into inch lengths sufficient to make one pint. Into three-fourths of a cup of mayonnaise dressing—lemon juice—stir the well-beaten white of an egg. Pare two tart apples, rub with a piece of lemon, and grate into the mayonnaise mixture. Arrange the celery in lettuce, cups or crisp leaves and garnish with tomato jelly cubes.

Mayonnaise Dressing.

Yolk of two eggs, one-half pint of olive oil, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of paprika, dash of cayenne, vinegar or lemon juice as needed. Have everything to be used in making the dressing perfectly cold, putting into the refrigerator some time before needed. Put the yolks in the bowl or mayonnaise mixer, which is more preferable, beat an

Over 300,000 babies die annually in the United States. Vital statistics show that the greatest cause is bowel trouble, and the second is pneumonia or other similar sickness resulting from colds. Scientists tell us that pneumonia as well as throat and head colds are the result of germ infection and this theory is put forward many times by parents who have been careless in some way or other in caring for their child.

Granted that in some few instances the mother or nurse was absolutely helpless before this scientific fact, I am absolutely certain that in the majority of cases an error in feeding that lowered the vitality of the child, some omission of bath, lack of fresh air, some carelessness regarding care of nose and throat, some sudden chilling of the body, through insufficient protection particularly during the night, has given the germ just the opportunity necessary to obtain a breeding place in the system of the child.

Scientists agree that the healthy body can generate its own anti-toxin for almost all known diseases. It is the duty of the mother, by keeping the child in a healthy condition, to work along preventive lines. This does not mean medicines. Drugs, even in homeopathic doses, are dangerous things in the hands of one who does not understand their effects on the body and particularly the sensitive organism of a child. The mother can work along two lines that are more important than the work of the doctor after the harm is done. The first is to watch with unceasing vigilance the physical condition of the child, making immediate changes in diet, clothing, sleep, etc., when symptoms indicate. Dear Mrs. Thompson: Am a girl of 16. (1)—What is the most fashionable color? (2)—Are tan shoes to be worn this spring? (3)—Please give recipe for chocolate drops. (4)—How many territories are there? (5)—Please give some good names for boys and girls. (6)—If a boy waves to a girl, is it proper to wave back? (7)—Would pale yellow be a nice color for a girl's summer dress?

VIOLET AND LILLY. (1)—Cerule and magenta just now; also shades of dark blue. (2)—Yes. (3)—Chocolate Cream: Take the white of an egg, add as much water, add confectionary sugar until you have a paste that can be rolled into balls. Put in any flavor desired. Melt baker's chocolate in double boiler. Dip in chocolate and lay on waxed paper to harden.

(4)—One Alaska. (5)—Marcus, Sebastian, Claude, Noel, Bernhard, for boys. Esther, Constance, Pansy, Mercedes, Melitable, Philomela; for girls. (6)—Yes, if they know each other. (7)—Yes.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going with a young girl and bought her a diamond. If I don't want to marry her, can she make me marry her? T. B.

If you have in any way promised to marry her, the law will make you keep your promise.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Please give a good recipe for ginger cookies; don't care for them too sweet.

M. M.

You will probably like these ginger drop cookies: 1 cup sugar, 2 tbsps. butter, mix well. 1 beaten egg, 1 tbsps. cinnamon, saltspoon salt, 1 cup sour milk, 1 tbsps. soda, 2 cups graham flour, mixing part of it with 1 cup raisins cut fine. Drop on tin and bake, after which sprinkle with sugar. The raisins can be left out, if desired.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have red hair. Would you advise me to dye it, as I do not like that color.

DOTTY DIMPLES.

If red hair is properly taken care of, it is beautiful. It is also a fashionable color. Dyed or bleached hair is never so pretty as hair of a natural color.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—Is it proper for a girl who has been keeping steady company with a young man, to accept slippers as a gift? (2)—Is it proper for me to meet him, as he lives out of town and it makes it too late for him to spend the evening at the theatre or any place of amusement? (3)—I have to pass a young man quite often. Lately he speaks to me. Is it proper for me to answer him? (4)—Is it proper for a girl of 17 to go to dances with her older sisters?

ANXIOUS.

(1)—Yes. (2)—Why not ask him to visit you at home? You could spend a pleasant evening that way, even if he couldn't stay long. (3)—If he wants to know you he should against sudden lowering of the body's temperature.

Food, the bath and the care of nose and much will be considered in later talks. Only a few hints along the second line of work can be given here.

Wool is the best regulation of temperature in the hands of the mother. Woolen bands, shirts, petticoats, stockings, night-dresses and blankets for bed and carriages are important factors in preventing colds. Intelligence must enter into their use as in all other lines of child culture; and, common sense being the rarest thing in the world, the mother needs all the enlightenment science and experience can furnish her.

One of the most frequent causes of colds is changing temperature at night. "Laps sewed to the bed clothes and then tied to the crib rods often are sufficient to keep the child well covered.

A sleeping bag of wool is of inestimable value if plenty of fresh air is admitted to the room of the child during sleep, night and day. This can be made with or without sleeves and assures complete covering. Do not, however, let it take the place of the woolen night-dress, robbing the child from toe to neck. Use the bag in addition to the night-dress in cold weather.

Cream Cake

Inquiries among a large number of women using "The Cook's Book" showed this to be their favorite cake recipe. It is easy to make, certain to turn out well if K C Baking Powder is used, and may be put together with almost any filling or icing.

K C Cream Cake

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.

One-half cup butter; 1 cup sugar; yolks of 2 eggs, beaten light; 11 cups sifted flour; 2 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; 1 cup cold water; whites of 2 eggs, beaten dry.

Cream the butter; add the sugar, yolks of eggs and water; then the flour, sifted three times with the baking powder; lastly the whites of eggs. Bake in two or three layers; put these together with cream filling, and dredge the top with confectioner's sugar.

Cream Filling: One-fourth cup sifted flour; 1 teaspoonful salt; 1 cup hot milk; 1 egg, beaten light; 1 cup sugar; 1 teaspoonful vanilla extract; 1 ounce chocolate.

Mix flour and salt with a very little cold milk; stir into the hot milk and cook ten minutes; add the chocolate and stir until it is melted and evenly blended with the flour mixture, then beat in the egg mixed with the sugar, and lastly the vanilla.

DR. GODDARD MILWAUKEE SPECIALIST

HEY SAY I CURE.
Do You Believe Them?

To Convince Yourself Write Or Ask These People Whom I Have Cured.

Here are the names of a few of the people whom I have cured and who grant me permission to use their names, and I CAN SHOW YOU THEIR LETTERS AS PROOF.

Notice I refer you to people RIGHT HERE IN THIS STATE, some in this county, not miles away. Possibly YOU KNOW SOME OF THEM PERSONALLY, convince yourself by asking them.

Every one who has been cured of RUPTURE WITHOUT OPERATION, without losing a day's time from work, SUFFERING AND PAINFULNESS, AT HALF THE COST OF OPERATION, would have COST and WITHOUT PAIN.

SUCH PROOF as I offer can not be MANUFACTURED OR IMITATED, and NO MAN can offer STRONGER EVIDENCE to his ABILITY and HONESTY, than the WRITTEN WORD of those he has cured.

Antone Olson, R. 27 Beloit, cured of single rupture.
Rudolph Grant, 210 South Jackson St., Janesville, Wis.
H. E. Clough, Rolling Prairie, Wis. (Double Rupture).
Otto Strubbe, Route 5, Beaver Dam, Wis. (Double Rupture).
Willard Reardon, 506 S. Center St., Beaver Dam, Wis.
Herman Miller, 8 year old son of, from Ridge, Wis.
E. W. Race, 12 Saratoga St., Oshkosh, Wis.
J. R. Chase, 27 W. Folk St., Oshkosh, Wis.
George P. Estey, 444 State St., Appleton, Wis.
Joe Haberman, 431 Lee St., Appleton, Wis.
John Knapp, 674 First St., Milwaukee, Wis. (Double Rupture).
William Alt, 280 Doty St., Green Bay, Wis.

Hans Pederson, R. F. D. No. 31, Bristol, Wis.

80 per cent. of All Ruptures Can Be Cured Without An Operation

If you cannot be cured without the knife I WILL REFUND to you $5, but the charges are 8 to 2 that you can be cured by my treatment, WITHOUT OPERATION.

Consultation is absolutely FREE. If you cannot come WRITE me. If you have been deceived and disappointed, so I WILL REFUND to you $5. I cure by degrees in distant cities, come to me and investigate this genuine cure.

I cure to stay cured, and I DO NOT ACCEPT any case I can not cure and I give you a WRITTEN GUARANTEE. I WILL REFUND to you $5. I cure by degrees in distant cities, come to me and investigate this genuine cure.

I ALSO MAKE A SPECIALTY OF CHRONIC DISEASES.

And treat them with equal success under my cash guarantee proposition. The following are a few of the cases you will write them.

Mrs. Mary Parr, Beaver Dam, was cured under my treatment. Brochard Aschman, many years duration, and according to her own statements is in better health today than she has been for many years.

Mrs. Henry Koffman, R. F. D. 4, Hilbert, Wis., cured of ringing in ears and Nasal Catarrh of Years' Duration.

Mrs. Albert Erickson, Lowell, Wis., of severe female troubles.

Mrs. John Hudson, Palmer Hotel, Fond du Lac, Wis., cured of trophic ulcer of leg after having been under the care of over six different doctors and operated on twice. Cured in 60 days. A remarkable case.

John Hansen, Watertown, Wis., cured of Piles of 20 YEARS' DURATION. This was a REMARKABLE CURE.

Henry Redmond, Red Granite, Wis., cured of Chronic Appendicitis. Dr. Goddard has been SPECIALIST IN APPENDICITIS, WITHOUT OPERATION.

These names given are only a very few of hundreds of cured cases on file in his offices in Milwaukee and are selected because they are people whose grateful words the doctor has done for them, prompts them to allow him to refer to them.

Endless suffering from troubles peculiar to their sex should by all means secure the doctor's advice. ALL MATTERS SACREDLY CONFIDENTIAL.

REMEMBER—Dr. Goddard accepts no fee in advance.

REMEMBER—He gives a written legal guarantee to cure in those cases he does not.

REMEMBER—His charges are within the reach of all.

If you cannot call, write for my free book, "Modern Methods of Treating Chronic Diseases Without Operation." A postal will bring it to you.

Remember Dr. Goddard visits Janesville every four weeks.

JANESVILLE TEAMS READY FOR DEBATES

Contests With Beloit Teams Will Be Held Here and at Beloit This Evening.

The Beloit-Janesville debates will be held this evening. Stanley Judd and his team composed of Harold Mohr and Benjamin Kullow, are ready for their struggle against the Beloit high school negative team in the local assembly room immediately following the Port Atkinson basketball game. Mr. Judd is well prepared, and the team should make things interesting for their opponents most of the time. The question is, "Resolved, that in the interests of world peace, the United States begin to diminish its proportional naval expenditures." It is a vital question, and all attending the basketball game are invited to remain for the debate. The contest here is the last year resulted in a victory for Janesville, the decision being 2 to 1.

The judges for the local contest are: A representative of Beloit college; Superintendent R. E. Lovland, Mineral Point, Wis.; Superintendent J. T. Plumb, Shullsburg, Wis. Mayor James A. Fathens will preside. The local affirmative will meet a strong team from Beloit, composed of Lowery Moore, Spencer Castle and Harry Balaban. The local negative at Beloit will debate against Tower, Olsen and Garland.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

(By Howard L. Ramm.)

THIS tailor is a high-class architect who can make a knock-kneed citizen look like the Venus di Milo in a sack suit. His business is to overlay the human form with clothes which look as if they had been hung by a deliberate paper hanger working by the hour.

There is a great difference in tailors, as they are born, not made. Some men follow the trade all their lives and couldn't fit a fancy vest on a jardstick and turn out a suit that looks as if it had been put on with glue. A tailor who has the soul of an artist and the eye of an eagle can tell at a glance whether the right shoulder of the patron is three inches lower than the left or whether he can stand a couple of bolts of cotton batten about the hips. The experienced tailor or meets advocates skid-dy pants for a lean man whose lower limbs are a cross between a billiard cue and a section of gas pipe.

Men go to tailors for the purpose of deceiving the general public as to their equipment in the way of physique. Some men have more physique than others and try to conceal it by crowding a 46-inch chest measure into a three-button cutaway with an expansion of 32 inches. An important mission of the tailor is to take a patient who is troubled with horizontal obesity and make him look like a new model of the tub skirt, without cutting off his supply of breath.

Another responsible contract which is often committed to the tailor is to upholster thin men with long, fluttering gargles in the form of arms and legs. The tailor who can drape a frock coat over the helpless form of one of these unfortunates without making it resemble a roller towel on a broomstick is performing the noblest service known to mankind.

Tailors earn a good deal of money and manage to collect about 10 per cent of it, one year with another. It is a cruel fact that people take more pleasure in beating the tailor than they do in defrauding a railroad company. If it were not for the peaceful nature of the tailor, thousands of men who are galloping around the club in silk-lined regalia and English walking coats couldn't get out of the house without the aid of a barrel.

John T. McCutcheon is the leading cartoonist of the day. He never draws a dull picture—every one contains a "punch." Yet his humor, keen as it is, is so good natured that it appeals even to the object of his wit. His life has been full of adventures. He is a globe-trotter and a brother to the great of many lands. This experience enables him to shape his lines along a wide variety of topics—most anything, in fact. Thus he always has something NEW. His genius is not limited to irony. He is equally effective in picturing little stories of romance and pathos.
